

Lincoln, NE - Congressman Jeff Fortenberry has received two subcommittee assignments on the important House Oversight and Government Reform Committee.

As a new member of the Oversight and Government Reform Committee, Fortenberry will serve on the Domestic Policy and National Security and Foreign Affairs Subcommittees. "Strict oversight of government programs, spending, and operations is now more crucial than ever," said Fortenberry. "Americans deserve a smart government that delivers efficient services while wisely using taxpayer dollars."

The Domestic Policy subcommittee has jurisdiction over domestic matters relating to the economy, energy, labor, education, criminal justice, and the Office of National Drug Control Policy. The National Security and Foreign Affairs Subcommittee conducts oversight of national security, homeland security, and foreign affairs issues.

Fortenberry is also a member of the House Foreign Affairs and Agriculture Committees.
